The Challenge

A leading US provider of home loans was looking for a service provider who could consolidate three of their separate locations into one central hub. The new location would provide a more efficient, centralized work space. The project would need to be completed over three weekends and be turn-key ready the following Monday. The relocation would include 950 employees, 1,100 desktop set-ups and 500 furniture related items.

Project Goal: Maximize office efficiency for a leading US home loan provider by consolidating three separate locations into one centralized hub.

The Solution

Suddath® and CBRE were selected due to our unique ability build a comprehensive move plan that took into account the multiple locations, aggressive time frame and minimal business interruption. We completed the consolidation and three separate moves on time and on budget.

The Icing on the Cake

Unexpectedly, many of the case goods needed to be switched from left hand to right hand returns to accommodate the new offices. Our broad menu of services and expertise in the field allowed us to keep the project on track and perform the services needed to ensure every office was ready and operational on day one of move in.
